

Churches Fill For Thanksgiving Message

Newmarket and district churches noted good attendance as congregations gathered for Thanksgiving services. Throughout the district, special services were arranged and in some instances, anniversary services coincided with Thanksgiving.

The same theme of thankfulness prevailed though it took many forms as each congregation heard their minister or special speaker draw attention to this benefit or that. In all the services, there was the same awareness that the blessings enjoyed by Canada were not shared by the hungry, and forlorn in the wake of war and pestilence.

At the Church of the Nazarene, Rev. L. E. Sparks preached in a church decorated with the products of the harvest. Choosing his message from Paul's letter to the Corinthians, he said that despite many false teachings the resurrection of the dead was established Bible doctrine. He likened the recent harvest to the resurrection of the saints and said that just as seeds sown in the ground are not resurrected in the same body, neither are the risen saints of God. Music was prominent throughout the service and in the morning, the junior choir sang "The Beauty of the Earth," and for the evening, the senior choir sang the anthem, "Reapers are Needed."

A Mass of Thanksgiving was celebrated at St. John's Chrysostom and many took Holy Communion during the services.

At the Presbyterian church, W. I. McElwain, B.A., Knox College, who occupied this pulpit a couple of years ago, took part in the morning service. He preached on the text, "Freely ye have received, freely give" and emphasized the necessity as members of the church of Christ, of sharing the blessings received with others in less favored parts of the world. The choir sang an anthem by Maunders, O Come Let Us Sing, and a trio sang "The Promise." In the evening Rev. M. E. R. Boudreau preached on "The Forgotten Sheep and the Unrepentant Corner." One of the minister's outstanding points was that without gratitude there can be no humility and without humility no man can be a Christian. The morning service was attended by about 150 people and about half that number attended the evening service.

Trinity United church had an almost capacity crowd on Sunday morning. Rev. Henry Cotton's subject was "Now Thank We All Our God." He referred to the meagre rations of the Pilgrim Fathers when they landed here compared with the favorable circumstances in which we find ourselves today. "We ought to thank God," he said, "for the beauty of nature all about us, for the great men who pioneered in this community and founded our industries, built our churches, schools and hospital." Dr. C. S. Gilbert, the soloist in the morning, sang "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." In the evening Mrs. S. C. Gill, Meaford, sang "Bless This" (Page 4, Col. 6)

Town Says Farewell To Mr.-Mrs. Lambert

Newmarket — The town council Tuesday night held a special meeting at the Agricultural Board room at which friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Lambert gathered to say goodbye to them. Mr. Lambert, Bank of Toronto manager here since 1933, has been transferred to Brantford.

Mrs. Lambert was presented with a chest of silver and roses by the Newmarket Lions club. Mr. Lambert was presented a desk set by the Newmarket town council, and a purse of $650 from his business associates. Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards presented the roses and R. L. Pritchard, president of the Newmarket Lions club, presented the silver. Reeve Arthur D. Evans presented the desk set and Aubrey Davis the purse to Mr. Lambert.

Mayor Joseph Vale called the meeting to order, and in reply to a question about Mr. Lambert's leaving from Reeve Evans, said that the rumor had been confirmed and denounced the Bank of Toronto directors in a humorous manner for their action in transferring a man whose record of public service in Newmarket was "without equal."

Mayor Vale paid tribute to Mr. Lambert for his public service and listed the many offices Mr. Lambert had held. He referred particularly to the advice of Mr. Lambert on financial and industrial problems of the town council. "No person has shown such great interest in the community, his loss is incalculable," he said.

Dr. L. W. Dales recalled the many services of Mr. Lambert to the town council. Particular emphasis was placed on his assistance to the industrial committee.

In presenting the purse, Mr. Davis said that Mr. Lambert was a man "of very unusual ability," a man "tops in all fields of activity." He said that Mr. and Mrs. Lambert would leave with the "very, very sincere wishes for the happiness they deserve in the city of Brantford."

Mr. Lambert replied with a recollection of his first days in Newmarket when he was welcomed

NEW MANAGER

The Bank of Toronto announces the appointment of A. C. Lord as manager of the Newmarket branch of the bank, succeeding H. E. Lambert.

Beginning his banking career in Cobourg, Mr. Lord enlisted as a private in the first great war with the 16th Canadian Scottish, was promoted to officer rank and severely wounded in France. He joined the head office of the Bank of Toronto in 1920 and has been successively manager at Coldwater and St. Mary's. Interested in public services, Mr. Lord is a prominent and active member of the Lions club and other organizations. From 1938 until the present time, he has been manager of the Bank of Toronto in Petrolia, where he was first vice-president of the Lions club and chairman of the board of the Charlotte Eleanor Englehart hospital.

He came as a friend from the beginning. "I have made some wonderful, wonderful friends in Newmarket," he said. He expressed his and his wife's appreciation for tributes paid him and extended an invitation to all to pay them a visit in their new home.

Had Active Life Here

Newmarket — H. E. Lambert, manager of the Bank of Toronto, who has been transferred to Brantford, will be remembered in Newmarket for his active role in the community life, and Mrs. Lambert will be remembered for her anonymous work with the Children's Aid, and as a gracious and generous hostess.

Coming to Newmarket from Dunnville in the fall of 1933, Mr. Lambert has been identified with most town activities in varying capacities. He has been chairman of several campaigns for financial aid in Newmarket both before and during the war years, particularly with reference to the Red Cross. He was chairman of the first War Services campaign in Newmarket during the war, and was vice-chairman for North York during the succeeding Victory Loan campaigns.

He was chairman of the finance committee of the York County hospital, a director in the Citizens-Soldier club, and as banker for the town of Newmarket, an adviser of the industrial committee of council as well as financial counsel.

An active Lion, he was district governor of an area including both Ontario and Quebec in 1936-37. During the war, he was chairman of a committee set up to assist soldiers at the Newmarket military camp.

Mrs. Lambert participated in the organization of the orchestra here as well as discharging her duties as hostess. A daughter, Gwen, now in California, was often soloist at Trinity United church of which the family were members.

At present, a crew of eight or ten men is being retained. During its period of full production, the plant employed 25 to 30 men and had a night shift.

The firm, organized two years ago, built its present plant a year ago last spring for the manufacture of plywood products. It used plywood from British Columbia and pine from Ontario, but lack of kiln dried materials and reliable sources of supply have caused production to come to a standstill.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell will be in Newmarket for the time being but they plan to leave Newmarket for the west before Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell have been in business in Newmarket for the last ten years, starting in the store now operated by B. A. Budd beside the post office.

Mr. Murray, who has had a wide experience in the drug store business, is married and has an 18-month-old son. He is a member of the Lions club.

Mrs. Bell was one of the organizers of the Newmarket Home and School Association and served a term as president. Lately, she has been chairman of the health committee of the association. She is serving her second year as a member of the Newmarket board of health. Mr. Bell was active in the organization of the Newmarket recreation committee last year and served a year on the committee as chairman of facilities.

They have lived on the corner of Lorne and Park Aves. and have three children, Nancy, Peter and Katherine.

After his arrest he was held on his own bail of $500 and appeared in magistrate's court on October 3. He was remanded for trial on Friday, Oct. 10 and when he did not appear, Magistrate Hollinrake ordered a warrant to be issued for his arrest. Witnesses will be informed when to appear after Ratz is apprehended.

Hendricks, Yonge St., Newmarket, has a plant which is in bloom, something she has learned, is very rare among that species. Mrs. Hendricks got the plant from Toronto a year ago. She describes it as being very like the hyacinth in shape, with a flower eight or nine inches long and very highly perfumed. She has been seeking information on the plant with little success so far and is anxious to find someone who can tell her more about it.

Cloverleaf Seen Possibility At Townline, Barrie Road

A cloverleaf crossing for the intersection of the townline and the new Barrie highway is under serious consideration by provincial highway officials. It is understood this week.

The townline provides the quickest and easiest access to Newmarket from the new highway and as such, would be the logical site of such a crossing.

Concrete for the viers for an overpass at the intersection has already been poured and an early completion of the bridge is expected. The new highway is at a considerably lower level than the townline at the point of intersection, and drops still more as it heads north onto the marsh. County officials had no information as to the possibility of the clover-leaf but in view of the heavy traffic moving north on

A route by way of the Queen Elizabeth highway, the new Barrie highway, and across the townline to the third concession would avoid Toronto and the Yonge St. congestion.

Before any heavy use was made of the townline considerable work would have to be done in the widening, grading and paving of it. The road is under the jurisdiction of the Toronto and York Roads commission west to Yonge St. and then comes under the authority of the township.

Lions Speed Harry Lambert With Present Of Golf Clubs

Newmarket — The Lions club had its father and son banquet on Monday evening when Fred McTavish of Bradford was the guest speaker and Harry E. Lambert, manager of the Bank of Toronto who is leaving shortly for Brantford, was presented with a set of golf clubs by the club.

The sons of Lions and their fathers listened intently to an address by Mr. McTavish who emphasized the importance of being a good father and of good relationship and co-operation between father and son. He spoke of the kind of situation where a father is an outstanding success in his business or profession but has failed in helping his son form a good character and start a successful life. The program included some riotous skits, which involved the fathers in a speed contest of feeding their sons from nipped bottles, and another in which the sons fed the "old man" a meal of pabulum.

Before the presentation to Mr. Lambert was made Fred Lundy told a bit of his history and what he has done for the Lions and the community. He said that Mr. Lambert came from Dunnville in 1933 and since that time had a perfect attendance record. "He has succeeded in Lionsism and climaxed it by being elected district governor in a district which includes about 53 clubs and most of the province of Ontario," said Mr. Lundy. "A Lion from the soul of his feet to the tip of his head, he has brought prestige to his club. He has President R. L. Pritchard hoped that there would be a possibility that Mr. Lambert would return to Newmarket when he retires.

Contour Farming is Thrifty

Contour Farming is how to till a hill : : how to make sloping land profitable. It reduces soil washing and flooding of fertile bottom lands, conserves soil, water, seed and fertilizer. It also saves tractor power—but you don't have to own a tractor to farm this way.

It's easy to find out what benefits other farmers have had from contour farming. Your agricultural college or experimental farm will tell you . . . and will also help you plan a similar programme to get more from your land.

A Planned Savings account will help you get more from your money—through the addition of interest. We cordially invite you to open such an account at your branch of this Bank and make the acquaintance of our manager.

Chemistry?

... WELL, I'VE HEARD OF IT!

YES, EVERYONE has heard of chemistry but few of us realize the part it plays in our daily lives. Countless products are entirely chemical. It improves and reduces the cost of many things. It creates jobs.

At home, chemistry becomes personal. It purifies the water we drink, improves the food we eat, the clothes we wear. It comes to us as salt and in soap. We meet it in "Cellophane", nylon, paint and plastic form. This would be a drab life without chemistry.

Regardless of world conditions, this progressive science drives ahead towards the goal of better working and living conditions . . . with the C-I-L oval trademark as symbol of an organization devoted to serving Canadians through chemistry.

For Instance . . .

AMMUNITION

Never content with things as they are, chemistry, the restless science, is constantly producing better sporting ammunition; for instance, waterproofed shot shells were developed by Canadian Industries Limited, Head Office, 1135 Beaver Hall Hill, Montreal.

MR. AND MRS. W. L. KIDD —Photo by Budd
Roses and gladioli have scored a technical knock-out over peas and carrots after a battle of several years at the W. L. Kidd residence on Court St. When Mr. and Mrs. Kidd came to Newmarket in 1910 they bought the 60' by 150' lot on Court St. where their present home is so they might both have room to develop their interests. Mrs. Kidd's consuming interest at the time was flowers, while her husband's was vegetables.
After they had built their house on the lot, they found that neither had enough ground to allow the fulfillment of horticultural dreams so they acquired another 80 feet of frontage next to their original lot. On the newly acquired land they planted trees and flowers and still did not have enough room, so they bought the land to the rear of their original site, extending it right to Hamilton St. A new problem arose when they found that the lot next to the extension was full of weeds. Under the circumstances, they took the only course available. They bought that lot, too.
On the new land an apple and pear orchard was planted and a small number of berry bushes and fruit trees. After 37 years of teaching, 22 of which had been spent as science teacher at Newmarket high school, William Livingston Kidd then began to look forward to retiring and to make plans for the day when he could devote the major portion of his time to "growing things". He "needed a hobby" and the ground already under his care did not appear adequate to fill this new need. Result? He bought a four or five-acre pasture field about 500 yards east of his home, a field where he could grow the vegetables which had somehow been squeezed out by flowers on the original properties.
A "Little Place"
"I thought I would have a little place of my own," he says. "The ground had hardly ever been cultivated and was very rough. A mill race ran through the property and there was a big ridge beside it where the earth had been thrown when the mill race was dug. There was quite a bit of boulder clay around, too. I filled in the mill race again with the ridge, levelled the land off and with the boulders I built a dike around the two sides of the year-round stream which flows through the property. The end of the dike was left open so that the spring floods could back up and instead of eroding the soil, the sediment is deposited on the flats. These deposits are a natural fertilizer and the soil is now excellent there because of them. After that there were drainage ditches to dig, too. It was five years after I bought the property before I actually retired.

"In the meantime my wife and I planted vegetables and a few flowers there but just as before the flowered sections grew in dimensions and those devoted to vegetables diminished, until now the field is almost all ornamented trees, shrubs and flowers." Mr. Kidd admits that there are still a few vegetables, "just enough of the ordinary family vegetables to keep my wife and myself supplied."
Green Thumb
He gives Mrs. Kidd full credit for the present beauty of the gardens. "Mrs. Kidd has what they call a green thumb—everything she touches seems to grow and grow beautifully. The gardens here are all beautifully landscaped, but those over in 'the field' are the best creations of all." Mrs. Kidd says there are over 100 varieties and more than 600 species of flowers in the gardens. "There are more than 140 species of tulips, 120 species of gladioli, 60 species of roses and 60 species of iris as well as many species of hyacinths, daffodils, lilacs, delphinium, peonies, lilies, asters, lupins and the common annuals and perennials," she said. "We have quite a few evergreens, too."
The Kidds specialize in MacIntosh, Delicious and Tolman Sweet apples and usually have a large crop of pears. "We welcome visits from our friends and anyone interested in flowers, provided that they are willing to be extremely careful in the gardens. When there are so many species, all of which have markers, it upsets things considerably when even one or two markers are pulled up or moved," Mrs. Kidd said.
"The big feature of gardens such as these is the interest that one can take in them. If a person has no hobby and nothing else to do, life isn't worth living. If people only knew what pleasure there is in growing things, I think a great many more people would do it," Mr. Kidd said.
Mr. Kidd, 74, was born in Cookstown, where he received his elementary and most of his high school education. His family moved to Barrie when he was 17 and he finished high school there. Following his graduation he began to teach immediately in a country school section in North Simcoe. After two years he accepted a position at Woodbridge continuation school, then at Stayner and later at Tillsonburg. He came to Newmarket high school in the fall of 1910 and taught until his retirement in 1937. In his youth he played lacrosse, football and baseball.
His wife, Myrtle Corman Kidd, was born in Norfolk County, educated at a country public school and Tillsonburg high school and graduated from Ontario College of Education in 1911. The Kidds were married shortly after.
Mr. Kidd has a high opinion of Newmarket high school and of the students he taught. "It was the best school I was ever in in 42 years of teaching and the classes were the best I have ever taught. I think the reason for that is the fact that this is a prosperous community with many people of Quaker origin. The Quakers are a fine people and seem to bring up their families right, with high ideals. The average number of good, serious-minded students is higher in this school perhaps than in almost any other in the province."

NEWMARKET HIGH-LIGHTS
By ELAINE ROBINSON
Bulletin boards are full of posters and campaign notices for the coming election. "Duna" Beattie and Fred Case are running in close competition for boys' athletic president. The question of the week seems to be "Who are we having for president?"
By the way, girls, what about your campaigning? So far we have seen only one little sign on the bulletin board. Don't tell us that the boys are going to beat us at campaigning for our president.
Fashion News
We have a question for the boys. "What is your opinion of the long skirts?" All right boys, don't get excited. We merely asked.
We have been inquiring around school and we find that the boys seem very put out at the situation. As one of them put it, "If girls wear their dresses longer, we will have to shorten our pants." This may mean a drastic change in our men's clothing. Don't let it get you down, boys. We are sure that this can't go too long.
The Glee Club is back in action again with the pupils of grades 9-12. The Glee Club is under the direction of Mr. Herman G. Fowler, Mus. Bac., and the pianist is Wendel Gilbert.

Young Hopefuls

DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Roberta Rains with the weather problem.

On days suitable for playing out-of-doors, Roberta has great fun playing in the yard and on the street with other children in the neighborhood. When the weather is bad and Roberta has to stay in-doors, the household routine is definitely disrupted. Her mother can't get her work done with Roberta constantly under foot.

An avalanche of repeated questions and answers from a dissatisfied little five-year-old can be very distracting. "Why" is the most popular question and "I don't want to" is the favorite answer.

One mother of four little ones has a list of in-door activities that her children refer to on rainy days. When anyone thinks of something new, that is simply added to the list. A little check placed beside any activity that amuses them for more than half an hour.

Games such as "Hide the Thimble," "I See Something," and "What Am I Doing?" rank high on the list for frequency. But, playing school, playing house, putting on a show, having an art exhibit, preparing a museum and making a scrap book occupy whole days, usually.

A trapeze or swing bar, made from a broom handle suspended by ropes is hanging in a double doorway in one household. With this means of exercise at his disposal, one lad keeps actively busy doing stunts.

Let's pretend

One little girl makes dolls clothes while her mother darns and mends. Another five-year-old has a happy time listening to "Let's pretend" stories her mother tells her while she irons or sews.

If baking is on the schedule, this little girl is kept usefully busy — measuring ingredients. Rainy days are treats for this little girl.

In one neighborhood, three little girls look forward to rainy days. They play house and have a tea party with their dolls every rainy day. They take turns going to each other's house.

Roberta hasn't brothers or sisters to play with her, but there may be one or two playmates she could entertain in-doors sometimes. Other times, mother and daughter could be good home companions.

One busy mother doesn't have time to do much playing with her only child, but she devotes the first half hour of her child's free of in-door blues keeping her busy doing chores — dusting, setting table, peeling potatoes or making beds. This child soon tires of chores and prefers to amuse herself so avoids her mother for the rest of the day.

A child's attention span is very brief so he needs a variety of activity. It takes some forethought to keep a child busy on bad weather days; but time spent on forethought brings real dividends in keeping the child happily busy and thus retaining the peace of the household despite the weather.

Judging from the fine display of delicious cakes and pies, the bake sale would seem a certain success and a most friendly afternoon was enjoyed by all present.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT HELD ON $500 BAIL ABSENT FROM COURT

Newmarket — Anton J. Ratz, who had been remanded for a week on charges of breaking into Morton Brothers Garage and for possession of stolen goods, did not appear in Magistrate's court on Friday and a warrant has been issued for his arrest. He has been on his own bail of $500. Witnesses were advised when to appear after Ratz is apprehended. He had been remanded on Oct. 3 until Oct. 10.

John McIntyre, 562 Gerrard St. E., Toronto, was dismissed on a dangerous driving charge but on a careless driving charge, was fined $25 and costs. On the night of Sept. 13 the car of the accused had been struck by one owned by a Mr. Little who was traveling north on Yonge St. McIntyre said he and his wife were going to Lake Simcoe from Toronto. They were travelling west from Newmarket on the continuation of Davis Drive toward Yonge St. Neither had been on the road before. McIntyre said that at a point about 50 feet east of Yonge, the bright lights of an east-bound car shone in his eyes and he was not aware that he was approaching Yonge St. After the car had passed him he was on the highway and the north-bound car hit him. McIntyre and his wife were both thrown from the car. The charges were laid by Constable Craig.

A dangerous driving charge against a youth, age 17, of Mount Albert, was also dismissed by Magistrate Hollinrake. He was convicted on a careless driving charge and fined $20 and costs. The accused's car had collided with one driven by Sherwood Smith of Bradford, on the night of Sept. 20. The accused had been driving south from Bradford on Yonge St. and about a mile and a quarter north of the town line, approached a truck followed closely by another car, also going south. When he turned out to avoid them, he sideswiped the Smith car which was travelling north. He said that he thought the car ahead of him was going to pass the truck and so he began to close in on the truck. He said that the car did not pass the truck and by that time he had to turn into the ditch on the right or pass them. He lacked enough speed to get by before hitting the Smith car, he said.

Ronald Farr, Sharon, testified that he slowed down quickly behind the truck and heard the sound of brakes behind him. Constable Craig laid the charges. K. M. R. Stiver was counsel for the defence.

Falling asleep cost Walter Koponen $5 and court costs. He fell asleep while driving his car, went off the road and hit a hydro pole.

On what friends could your wife depend?

A man may have scores of friends — good ones too — but it's a rare case where he could depend on or expect his family to look after his wife and family in the way they deserve, if anything happened to him.

The best friend a man can make for his wife and family — and one that he can depend on for practical help — is well-planned life insurance designed to fit his circumstances and his family's needs.

The Mutual Life of Canada has been providing just that kind of protection for nearly 80 years.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by Don Graham

Offhand you might say that there is no connection between having a hobby and being successful in your work.

But all of us need the relaxing effect of a hobby to counter-balance the strain of hard work.

"Fun is a tonic," says Dr. G. S. Stevenson, eminent mental hygiene authority. "It refreshes us when we are tired or bored with our routine tasks—gives us new strength and enthusiasm for the business of living."

If you have a particular hobby, such as fishing, gardening or photography, you will be well advised to choose one. Or if you indulge in a hobby only rarely, you ought to devote time to it more regularly.

As a result, you will be happier and probably wealthier. And you'll surely do a better job!

P.S. An acquaintance of mine made wooden trays as a hobby. They were so handsome that many of his friends wanted to buy them and soon he had a flourishing full-time business. Such cases are not uncommon.

You'll enjoy life even more with the peace of mind that life insurance brings. It has provided for the future security of millions of Canadians since 1847.

THE COMMON ROUND

THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving Day has come and gone, but if its spirit is only for a day, it seems to me it can be at best, only a worthless gesture.

Like everyone who reads and listens, I have heard people say "What is there to be thankful for in a world where chaos is rampant?"—if chaos can be rampant—and where prices are soaring to such an extent that a modest wallet is depleted before half one's necessities are procured not to mention the little extras so dear to the hearts of both men and women.

Well, the world is chaotic. Look at Palestine, the land where the Prince of Peace was born, the land from which emanated the force of love as the foundation stone on which mankind should build its relations.

Twelve men from a small, insignificant down-trodden nation were sent out to preach the gospel of love. They were not statesmen, nor politicians, nor diplomats, nor financiers. They were poor and humble but they had been associated with the Light of the World, and they had absorbed enough of that Light to cause it to shine in dark places; to conquer paganism on high places and to lift men to a higher plane. We still have that Light and the right to worship the Giver of Light in peace and security, for which we can give thanks.

And giving thanks, we can look to God, who chose Palestine as the birth place for the Saviour of the world; to in some way bring order and peace to that unhappy land.

We look around at conditions all over the world—the Security Council, the United Nations, the meeting of foreign ministers—never have so many great minds worked with so few real results. And yet we can be thankful that they are working, and hope and pray that out of the maze of disagreement, suspicion, misunderstanding and fear, some basis for future peace, understanding and a working agreement for world order will be evolved.

We speak of the democracies versus totalitarianism. It seems more as it was in the time of Christ—Christian leaders versus pagan leaders. No concept of world brotherhood can be based on the pagan precept that "might is right."

But we can be thankful that, like the x-ray which can penetrate into hitherto hidden things, so the Light of the World can even penetrate the iron curtain and warm and strengthen the hearts there which have always cherished the Christian faith.

And we can be thankful for our own land—for Canada—even with all the things we think are wrong, with its lack of all the remedies we think we would apply if we had the power. Still it is a wonderful land—a wonderland!

We are young compared to the lands across our two great oceans—well surely that is all to the good. We can benefit by their blunders, if we will.

Of course youth learns best, if hardest, by experience and we are gaining that rapidly in the position into which our place geographically, politically, and financially, has shoved us.

Can we, a small nation, bear our part as a great nation? Can we be great enough to stand pat on what we believe is right, against the fear of aggression or maybe loss of prestige? If so we can be thankful.

We can be thankful for the beauty all about us, the colors, the fruits of the harvest, our schools and our churches, our cultural opportunities and our right to work. And we can be thankful that the Lord of the Harvest, who rules the vast universe with such wonderful order, will not see one small planet of that universe erupt in absolute chaos. There will be a solution.

25 YEARS AGO

From The Era and Express files, Friday, Oct. 20, 1922.

The firemen had another run for nothing yesterday morning. The alarm sounded about a quarter to nine and Frank Bowser was the first to mount the fire truck and run it out of the fire hall. The alarm was rung in from the corner of Ontario and Main but the fire was at the home of Mrs. Walker on Queen St. The fire, a burning basket of clothes, was out when they got there.

On the Newmarket markets, butter sold at 40c a pound and eggs sold at 45c a dozen.

At the town council meeting, Mr. H. G. Binns was heard with reference to the fire siren. Mr. Nesbitt said he was much disappointed as the alarm is no better than the waterworks whistle. Mayor Cane said the old steam whistle could be heard for 15 miles and he did not think the siren has the proper sounding service. It will not awaken the firemen if they are asleep. A lengthy discussion ensued. The matter was referred back to the Fire and Light Co. to try the siren in another position.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Howarth and family spent the weekend with Mrs. Howarth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Muir.

Mrs. Thornlea of Barrie is visiting Mrs. Jas. Stark.

At Pipher's Bowling Alley, members of team No. 5 made the following total scores: W. N. Thomson 370, C. J. Schanks 524, G. Muir 366.

Wheat has at last reached one dollar. The Russell-Bell Flour Mills are now paying $1.01 to the farmers.

Now that Paris says skirts must be longer, many young things prefer to take their styles from Scotland.

Mr. Nesbitt informed council that Mr. Adams intends to erect a theatre on his lot just south of Mr. Nesbitt's on Main St.

Mayor Cane sought information from council as to what extent they would be prepared to extend further relief to the fire sufferers in Northern Ontario.

50 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Armitage were visiting in Toronto over Sunday. Miss Hattie Armitage accompanied them and is remaining for two or three weeks.

Mr. George Wood has been decorating for a week at Roch's store and ten more electric lights have been added.

On the Newmarket markets this week, eggs sold at 17 cents a dozen, butter at 16 cents a pound and chickens sold at 50 cents a pair.

Eight of the ringleaders in the St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary disturbances have been removed to Kingston.

While riding a bicycle a few days ago, young Claude Downswell, Aurora, fell off and broke his arm at the elbow.

Miss Tillie Hughes entertained a number of young friends at her home on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Glancy of Belhaven has taken residence in town.

Why is grain coming to Newmarket from south of Bond's Lake? Because there is more money in it.

Some people are wondering how Lundy can pay so much for wheat. He says it is because he knows where he can sell it to his best advantage.

Mr. Joseph Brammer of East Gwillimbury gave us a call last Monday. He is in very feeble health. Mr. Brammer is nearly 90 years of age. He settled here in 1829, took a very active part in the '37 rebellion and saw from his cell in Toronto gaol, the scaffold on which Lount and Matthews were hung.

Barrie is agitating for an all-night telephone system and an electric fire alarm system.

BETHEL

The weather during the past week has been grand, giving the farmers time to garner in the late crop and enjoy a beautiful Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hury Toronto, spent the weekend with Mrs. Hury's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross O'Brien, Baldwin.

The firemen had another run for nothing yesterday morning. The alarm sounded about a quarter to nine and Frank Bowser was the first to mount the fire truck and run it out of the fire hall. The alarm was rung in from the corner of Ontario and Main but the fire was at the home of Mrs. Walker on Queen St. The fire, a burning basket of clothes, was out when they got there.

On the Newmarket markets, butter sold at 40c a pound and eggs sold at 45c a dozen.

At the town council meeting, Mr. H. G. Binns was heard with reference to the fire siren. Mr. Nesbitt said he was much disappointed as the alarm is no better than the waterworks whistle. Mayor Cane said the old steam whistle could be heard for 15 miles and he did not think the siren has the proper sounding service. It will not awaken the firemen if they are asleep. A lengthy discussion ensued. The matter was referred back to the Fire and Light Co. to try the siren in another position.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Howarth and family spent the weekend with Mrs. Howarth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Muir.

Mrs. Thornlea of Barrie is visiting Mrs. Jas. Stark.

At Pipher's Bowling Alley, members of team No. 5 made the following total scores: W. N. Thomson 370, C. J. Schanks 524, G. Muir 366.

Wheat has at last reached one dollar. The Russell-Bell Flour Mills are now paying $1.01 to the farmers.

Now that Paris says skirts must be longer, many young things prefer to take their styles from Scotland.

Mr. Nesbitt informed council that Mr. Adams intends to erect a theatre on his lot just south of Mr. Nesbitt's on Main St.

Mayor Cane sought information from council as to what extent they would be prepared to extend further relief to the fire sufferers in Northern Ontario.

Don "Banker" Brown, the dapper young Newmarket athlete who is with the Bank of Montreal at Aurora, requests that all those interested in basketball get up to the situation that exists in North York. Right now, Newmarket grads are ready to play and Aurora grads, too. With Pickering Masters a three-team league at least is ready. The ex-students at Richmond Hill are looked upon to form a fourth team. The loop will play night games at Pickering and Aurora, and of course, referees are needed. If you figure you can blow a whistle in the cage game and want to earn a few bucks on the side—that was earned, we said, son, forward your name to Brown or Dick Mather of Pickering College. There seems no reason basketball can't go over in the district and an entry in the intermediate B series of the O.B.A. would add considerable interest.

Mo Walsh, elongated first-sacker of the Newmarket Vets, has received word from Billy Hewitt of the O.H.A. to be on his toes this winter as plenty of important assignments are ahead. One of the better young referees, Walsh will definitely work senior O.H.A. as well as intermediate and junior. It's not likely he'll accept any Newmarket assignments where his Hoff associates are entered in the O.H.A. "Fireman" Walsh will also work the odd weekend game in the Quebec circuit whenever possible. Fat Milne, former young Aurora athlete, is playing a brilliant game at inside wing for Thorold Mounts which are leading the Niagara district O.R.F.U. group with no defeats.

Nip Armstrong, former King-Aurora high athlete, who married recently, has been transferred from Maple to Woodville.

With regret we record the passing of Dave Middleton, Richvale, trainer, assistant manager and chief roster of Combines lacrosse club. An active player in his earlier days and a keen follower of sport, Dave gave tirelessly of his time to further the interest of sports in the Hill district. Suffering from heart trouble on many occasions, he overtaxed his strength. This summer he was particularly busy helping to keep the luckless "Bines" together but saw the lacrosse season through. Incidentally, Stew Stephens, who fairly god-mothered the Combines to the tune of over $600 this year and close to that the year before, declares he is through once and for all with promoting sport. It wasn't the fact the team lost both years, but the lack of co-operation from the players and the indifference of one or two at crucial spots that hurt. There are too many fellows of high class calibre like Mr. Stephens who give up aiding sport simply because the players or fans "bite the hand that feeds." "An angel" is not easily found and it's time some of the players who yelp the loudest on the least provocation got wise to things.

Bill Pepler of the Kitchener Flying club will be at the Riddell farm near King next Saturday to take up passengers if the weather is good. The same day, Apple Day is being held by Aurora Boy Scouts and we bespeak a hearty response from all those passing through Aurora that day. The Scouts are sponsored by Aurora Legion and those in charge are doing a swell job. Bill Thoms, erstwhile big leaguer and still the "Sweet William" of canaltown, will go back to refereeing this winter and he'll naturally rate as one of Ontario's leading whistle-tooters. Bill had a whirl at the coaching of Marlboros juniors last winter and did a fine chore, considering everything. With the Marlies being even more openly allied with the Leafs this winter, Stafford Smythe, son of Major Conn Smythe, has taken over the job for a bit of seasoning, no doubt, before moving up in the Leaflet system. Smythe was a teammate of Hughie Mair at Runnymede and with Marlboros and last winter coached Varsity juniors. Thoms won't suffer from the change and perchance you'll be seeing him in the N.H.L. in the not too distant future as a referee.

Hugh McKee, promising young all-round athlete at Aurora high, suffered a painful and unexplainable accident at the inter-school field meet. While preparing to participate in the high jump trials, he snapped a bone in his foot and as a result will be on crutches for six weeks. The points he might have earned in the meet would have stood the second place Aurora team in good stead. An orchid to young Gerry Simmons who this year has come into his own at track and field. In public school he always trailed others. This year he annexed both the Aurora and inter-school intermediate track titles. An example of the benefit of good coaching can be seen in his record discus toss last Friday. At the Aurora meet he flipped the platter only slightly over 100 feet. Then assistant coach Capel went to work on him and at the inter-school meet he sent the disc soaring 119 feet to crack a record of 114 feet seven inches established in 1933 by Stan Rumble, Richmond Hill. It was better than the senior effort by a fair margin. Actually, however, Simmons has a long way to go to best the 1930 mark of John Onisch of the Hill who won the senior event with 138 feet, six and a half inches. It should be remembered, however, that this is the first year Simmons has handled the discus. In addition to winning the discus, he took the shot put and was second in the 75-yard dash and the running broad jump and third in the hop, step and jump. This summer he pitched nice ball for Aurora midgets and he has his eyes turned on the juvenile hockey season now.

Jolyne Doolittle, Aurora, finished second in the Aurora school meet, proved her real worth in the Newmarket meet by taking the senior championship with ease. Jolyne is of the well known Aurora sports family, all of whom have distinguished themselves in some sport. Struck from the list of events for the girls were the running broad and the hop, step and jump as being physically unsuited to the females. We have no quarrel with this but it seems strange the same situation doesn't apply to the high jump. The running broad is still included in the list of events for the women's Olympic trials, however.

Over 2,000 Watch Trials At Thanksgiving Day Meet

Over 2,000 spectators watched the cross-country races at Beverley Farm on Thanksgiving Day when some of Ontario's leading hunters and horsemen competed in the trials of the Toronto and North York Hunt club.

The feature event, the Prince of Wales trophy, donated by the Duke of Windsor, was won by Robert Elder astride Tycoon. The race was a thrilling one as Elder barely nosed out Mrs. Hugh Wilson. Maple, who rode Kovan. For the greater part of the race it looked as if history would be made in the 27-year-old race as Mrs. Wilson led all the way over hills and hurdles until the home stretch. Tom Gayford finished third in the field of four.

Gayford came back to win the Solar Eclipse Challenge Plate donated by the late Aemilius Jarvis as he sent the seven-year-old Rocket to victory. Shadow and Storm, a handsome pair of matched greys owned by Harrison Gilmore, Aurora, won the pair hunter championship and the Elder Cup. In the novice hunter trials, Tom Gayford scored his second triumph of the day as he rode Bearex to a nice win.

In the farmer's event, Ted "Shorty" Greenwood scored an impressive win with Malsry B. Harold Woolnough, Aurora, was second. In this event, 60-year-old Percy Perch, district farmer who has an artificial leg, fell from his horse after crossing the finishing line and suffered a fractured rib.

ON THE ALLEYS

BY PIN-BOY

Some of the gals in town, 36 to be specific, have formed a new bowling league and will start rolling 'em next Monday night at Smith's alleys. They had a big huddle on October 6 and elected an executive and a bunch of officers and team captains. The president of the crowd is Mrs. Frank Courtney. Secretary is Ada Rose and the treasurer is Marion Stark. Have fun, girls.

People started bowling at Smith's new alleys on Tuesday night so there is a bit more bowling space in town now. At the Bowlaway on Davis Dr. the Davis men have been making some encouraging scores. A first 15 miles. John and Ernie Peppiatt is first in this week's scoring honors with a total of 770. S. Smith took 694 total and W. Groves 644. With the Mount Albert league, Frank Dampf, on the Cubs, got the high single of 234 and on the Wild Cats, M. Stokes bowled 173.

Last Friday night the Office Specialty bunch had their usual successful night. Big man of the night was D. Burch who bowled 213, 214, 187 for a total of 614; A. G. Peppiatt, 190, 212, 218 for 620 and T. B. Scott, 227, 119, 198 for a 544.

Now that the new alleys are open again it will give some of those other enthusiasts who have been waiting so long a chance to get started. There has been some chatting among other town gals about forming a league and rumors have it that a mixed lot of characters in various walks of life are milling together on the verge of forming a bowling group.

39 CYCLISTS COMPETE IN 25-MILE RACE

With 39 riders competing under perfect weather conditions, the Aurora Cycling club staged its first post-war 25-mile road race before a large crowd which waited until the last rider had finished. Most of Ontario's leading riders were present and the time winner was Albert Shelstrath, LaSalette, Ont., who negotiated the course in the fast time of one hour, 11 minutes and 46 seconds. Joe "Smoker" DeMaeyer, Delhi, was only four-fifths of a second behind Shelstrath and in the third time spot was Jules Charbonneau, Toronto.

The winner of the race, which was run on time allowances, was Roy Henley, Toronto, who rode with a six-minute handicap, and Bob Davidson, Hamilton, finished second with Bill Hamilton, Oshawa, third.

First Aurora rider over the wire was Cliff Chapman in 19th position, and he received an ovation as he finished. Bob Benville was the second club rider home. Considerable dissatisfaction was shown by the crowd at the seemingly unfair handicaps provided the local riders but the Aurora boys acquitted themselves well and were the first to congratulate the winners.

Youthful Murray Chapman, the youngest rider in the race, gamely finished the gruelling course. The fair haired ten-year-old with a 20-minute handicap led for a first 15 miles. John and Ernie Summers, two other youthful Aurora riders, also thrilled the crowd with their fine efforts.

Nary an accident marred the race and 35 of the starting riders completed the race. Bill Elder, C.W.A. chairman, Jack McDonald, C.W.A. secretary, and Bert Sharpe, chairman of the Olympic committee, were on hand to assist the local officials.

The fine array of prizes were presented to the winners by Orval Heath and Doug McKenzie. Mr. Heath is the father of the late Billy Heath and Mr. McKenzie, the brother of the late
